

MEDIA RELEASE
23 October 2018

There's no place like home WASO delivers extraordinary music for the ages

These days we can have almost anything home delivered. In 2018 West Australian Symphony Orchestra brings the magic of classical music directly into the homes of aged and health care residents through the Music for the Ages program.

The program is a partnership between WASO and Healthway promoting the Act-Belong-Commit message designed to reach people who are unable to attend a concert due to illness, disability or limited mobility.

"Involvement in music and the arts has proven benefits for mental health and emotional wellbeing, so this is a really special program. We are thrilled to partner with Healthway for this important community program."

Cassandra Lake, WASO Executive Manager Community Engagement

The format is a chamber music performance of popular classical pieces, followed by morning tea where audience members can interact with our musicians.

Jan, a resident of Lawley Park Lifestyle Village, has attended many WASO concerts and is keen to share the experience with her neighbours "This event in our Clubhouse is our own private classical music performance. The musicians are so close. How special is that?"

Music for the Ages is a program delivered by WASO's award winning Education and Community Engagement program and promotes a lifelong journey with WASO and the joy of music!

Organisations wishing to learn more about this program can visit <https://www.waso.com.au/education-community/community-outreach/music-for-the-ages/>

For further details please contact:

Amy McDonnell
Communications Manager
West Australian Symphony Orchestra
Tel: (08) 9326 0061 Mob: 0410 753 196
mcdonnella@waso.com.au